Finished Sq Ft		Unfinished Sq Ft	Units	Description	I will be adding a new steel roof and steel panel siding to my existing accessory shed (24' x 32'). The building was originally constructed as a pole building and is a non-conforming structure allowing for exposed fastener steel panel construction. When the roof is added a 5" overhang will be added to the North side of the building extending the current roofline and pitch. Overhangs of 12" to 18" will be added to the East, West and South sides of the building. These overhangs will not violate setback restrictions.
